AMENDMENT 0002

14 August 1997

F41612-97-R0210

"Mechanical Utility Systems ID/IQ"

A. The following correction should be made to paragraph J of Amendment 0001: Paragraph should show deletion of pages 49 through 61 instead of pages 49 through 62.

B. The following responses are provided to questions which have been asked:

(1) Q. Statement of Work, paragraph 2.4, states that the unit price for piping shall include soil testing and trench protection to a depth of 10 feet. It also states that, for depths greater than 10 feet, there will be a different line item. Are costs for density testing to be a different line item? Are costs for density testing to be included in the price per foot of piping or in line Item No. 0223, Soil Density Testing? OSHA requires trench protection starting at 5 feet in depth. Are we to assume that we are to include cost for trench shoring in the price per foot of piping up to 10 feet in depth? Also there are no line items for piping installed deeper than 10 feet.

A. Line items 0186 and 0187 cover depths greater than 10 feet. Line item 0223 is used for soil density testing. The cost of trench shoring shall be included in the price per foot of piping over 5 feet in depth.

(2) Q. Are water main fittings for pipe 4" through 12" to be PVC or ductile iron?

A. Water main fittings for pipe 4" through 12" is PVC.

(3) Q. Does the price for water valves include the valve box?

A. Valve box is a separate line item.

(4) Q. Line item 0106 is shown to be an 8" gate valve. Is this supposed to be an 8" poly plug valve? Is the valve box included in this line item? This question also applies to line items 0013, 0120, 0128, 0136, and 0141.

A. Line items 0013, 0106, 0120, 0128, 0136, and 0141 are to be poly plug valves. Valve boxes shall be priced separately.

(5) Q. Meter boxes are shown in two places, line items 0070 and 0156. What is the size and material for the meter box?

A. Delete line item 0070. Meter box shall be cast iron. The size will depend on the job.

(6) Q. Line items 0124 and 0131 are shown to be 4" and 3" check valves for gas distribution. Since these are not shown in the specifications, what is required?

A. Delete line items 0124 and 0131.

(7) Q. What sizes are line items 0220 and 0221?

A. Being limited to one line item precluded specifying any line size. These sizes will be job dependent. Suggest picking a "typical" size, based on experience, for pricing.

(8) Q. Division 16 of the specifications refers to cathodic protection for valves, piping, and castings. Where do we apply the costs for this work?

A. Add cathodic protection (sacrificial anode system) as line item 0225.

(9) Q. What size are the transition fittings shown on line item 0216?

A. Size of transition fittings will be job dependent. Suggest using an average price for such fittings.

(10) Q. In the past a licensed plumber was required to be on site during the installation of water, sewer, and gas lines. Will this be a requirement for this contract?

A. Add the following to Section 01000, paragraph 3.3.6: "A licensed plumber is required to be on site during the installation of any natural gas, water, or sewer line."

(11) Q. Section 01000, paragraphs 2.3 and 2.4, outline what is required for the installation of specific utilities including material, labor, equipment, etc. Do these items include excavation? If so, what is the purpose of line items 183, 184, and 185?

A. Excavation for utilities will be priced using separate line items. Excavation is not included in the price for pipe.

(12) Q. Section 02733, paragraph 1.0, specifically covers cured-in-place liner. Can other approved methods of rehabilitation be substituted for this process such as pipe bursting or slip lining?

A. Only those methods specified can be used for pipe rehabilitation at this time.

(13) Q. Section 16640, paragraph 1.2.1, refers to cathodic protection for underground metal piping. The majority of work outlined in this project proposal is PVC or polyethylene piping with the exception of valves and fittings. What extent does this section cover? Do all valves and fittings require cathodic protection and the services of a corrosion engineer?

A. The cathodic protection section is included for several reasons -- one being if areas under cathodic protection were disturbed during utility replacement, they would need to be repaired. Another is the requirement to put cathodic protection on fire hydrants as detailed and other places where the pipe is PVC and the valve or fitting is not. A certification of the installation by a corrosion engineer would be sufficient.

C. All comments above apply to basic year and all option years.

D. Delete pages 5, 7, 10, 12, 14, 17, 19, 21, 24, 26, 28, 31, 33, 35, and 38 and replace with revised pages 5, 7, 10, 12, 14, 17, 19, 21, 24, 26, 28, 31, 33, 35, and 38, attached.

E. Proposal due date is changed to 19 August 1997, 4:30 P.M.

F. All other terms and conditions are unchanged.

F41612 97 00008
